

GTM MEETS HRA ON ELECTRICITY

Today Mayor Maripe Mangena and Thapelo Matlala (Municipal Manager) met with members of the Heanetsburg Ratepayers Association to discuss electricity challenges facing the town.

The discussion between the two parties revolved around maintainance of electricity infrastructure with a huge emphasis on vegetation control. Andrew Laubscher, the manager for electricity operations and maintenance attributes 80% of the electricity challenges in Heanetsburg to vegetation.

Residents have pledged their support to the municipality in resolving any challenges linked to vegetation. The parties have also agreed to improve communication in an effort to address service delivery issues affecting the town.

The municipal manager, Thapelo Matlala who was meeting the ratepayers for the third time said that the interaction between the two will be deemed a success once there are tangible results.

The two parties will work together to identify problem areas and seek practical solutions.
